New Yorkers Don't Mind Paying Income Tax,

But it Injures the Morals of the Rich.

WHAT AN AWFUL PITIY Said a Texas Member Commenting on It.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 15.—[Special.]—“The income tax measure must go, or will it bring me? Such is the question asked by almost every Democrat in Congress, and from those with whom he corresponds, for it cannot be denied that a very considerable number of members are on the anxious list upon that subject. The answer comes from everywhere—rural and big cities. Incoming visitors talk with great freedom, and there are many results.

The important ones may be merged out thus: Take as a model one of those disease maps which show the progress of the crisis, and by various shading, mark out the strength of local opposition to the income tax. Then take another and mark out the region where a great deal of wealth has concentrated, especially where it is concentrated in a few hands, and the two maps will correspond to the tenth of 1 percent in the shading. After this, it is only what we should expect, for there is a large majority in favor of the income tax.

An additional supply of food will be sent to them immediately.

RESCUED FROM STARVING.

Food Carried to Inhabitants of a Lone Island Through Great Perils.

DUBLIN, Feb. 15.—Advices received from the north of Ireland announce that a life boat after a perilous voyage, has succeeded in reaching the island of Inishtrahull, nine miles to the north of the Malin Head at the extreme north of Ireland, where 600 inhabitants have been unable, for weeks past, to communicate with the mainland, and who were believed to have been in danger of dying from starvation.

The life boat, on its way to Inishtrahull, was buffeted by enormous seas which filled the boat and necessitated lashing the oarsmen to their seats. The life boat's crew found the people of Inishtrahull in a state of despair, they had been compelled to eat the furniture and wood-work of their houses for fuel. So far as provisions were concerned, there was only a handful of potatoes left on the island.

Happily, the inhabitants, with one exception, had managed to sustain life until the arrival of the life boat, which had brought a small supply of food for the suffering people. As it was, one man died of starvation, and a number of others were found to be suffering severely from lack of food.

The crew of the life boat did their utmost to relieve the sufferings of the inhabitants of Inishtrahull, left the provisions they had with them and succeeded in returning safe to the mainland.

A small amount of food will be sent to them immediately.

A MONSTROUS ANOMALY.

Michael Davitt Wants the House of Lords Extinguished.

DUBLIN, Feb. 15.—At the fortnightly meeting of the Irish federation last night Mr. Michael Davitt said he hoped that the Liberals would go in for the extinction of the monstrous anomaly of heaven-born law-makers, whom he subsequently stigmatized as a den of land thieves and rapacious legislative grafters.

“Debasing” New York City.

Took in like manner a line of cities along the northern edge of the country, in which the opposition is strong, and going from there southward it so steadily decreases, that this is true to an extent or more than half the number of heaven-born law-makers, whom he subsequently stigmatized as a den of land thieves and rapacious legislative grafters.

Men’s Gore Extremes.

LONDON, Feb. 15.—The Daily News says: “It is the impression on both sides of the house of commons that the lords will not proceed to extremes. Lord Salisbury’s discontented Liberal allies do not conceal the apprehension with which they view the effect of the proposed changes in the constitution of their millions, but as one goes toward the west the opposition steadily decreases.”
